Meet our Interns!

Nicholas Quinn is a junior at Colgate University, majoring in Geography. With a penchant for the arts, Nick grew up performing at his schools and local theatres around his hometown, Allentown, PA. At Colgate, Nick continues to pursue the arts through performing with an a capella group, the Colgate Resolutions. Besides his love for the arts, Nick's interests include community development, empowering marginalized communities, and advocating for environmental health. Nick is extremely excited to be working with the Earlville Opera House, where he can combine his love for the arts with his passion for community development.

Jaclyn Berkowitz is a Junior at Colgate University, majoring in International Relations. Jaclyn recently got accepted to and will be attending the Graduate Institute in Geneva, Switzerland to attain a Masters in International Affairs. At Colgate, Jaclyn is a Senator for the Student Government Association, where she advocates for her peers and creates a link between the local Hamilton community to the Colgate campus through her position in the External Affairs Committee of SGA. She has also volunteered at non-profit organizations, including the ALS Association and Building One Community (a center for immigrants to learn English and integrate into American society). Jaclyn is more than thrilled to be working with the Earlville Opera House where she can help engage the local community and continue to build on her appreciation for the arts.

Heather Pierson Trio

April 13 @ 7PM

Heather Pierson is an award-winning pianist, multi-instrumentalist, singer/songwriter, and performer whose inspiring live performances and growing catalog of releases delve into Americana, blues, New Orleans jazz, vocal chants, instrumental piano, and poignant folk. She is best known for her virtuosity at the piano and her bell-tone vocals, and her songs and musicianship embody joy, honesty, and a desire to share from the heart. In twenty years on her own record label, Vessel Recordings, she has released eleven CDs of original music, and a new full-length recording is currently in the works and planned for a mid-2019 release.

Special Guests: Opus Black String Quartet and Dutch Hoke

Williams Road is a three piece roots band from the rolling hills of central New York. Their sound is a little bit of Bakersfield country with a mix of Americana. The band's unique songwriting represents life in the rural setting they call home. Pushed by strong harmonies and acoustic guitars at it's core, add violin, electric guitar, and the pedal steel, and there is William Road. The groups influences are artists, Lyle Lovett, Tom Waits, Steve Earl, and some of the good old boys of country long gone.

"Opus Black String Quartet is an alternative ensemble with a penchant for the unorthodox. Built on a common foundation of classical training, their backgrounds are as diverse as their repertoire." - Syracuse New Times

While the name may be reminiscent of a traditional string quartet, their sound is a powerhouse of contemporary music.

Each player performs on a black carbon fiber instrument.

Vance Gilbert

May 17@ 7PM

Vance Gilbert burst onto the singer/songwriter scene in the early 90's when buzz started spreading in the folk clubs of Boston about an ex-multicultural arts teacher who was knocking 'em dead at open mics. Born and raised in the Philadelphia area, Vance started out hoping to be a jazz singer, and then discovered his affinity for the storytelling sensibilities of acoustic folk music. Once word got out about Gilbert's stage-owning singing and playing, Shawn Colvin invited him to be special guest on her Fat City Tour. Noted not only for being the ever consummate performer, Gilbert has recorded 12 albums, including 4 for Philo/Rounder Records and a duo album with friend Ellis Paul. Along with being opener of choice for artists as varied as Aretha Franklin, Arlo Guthrie, and Anita Baker, 2006 and 2007 found Gilbert opening 140+ shows for comedian George Carlin. Most recently he's the opener of choice for Paul Reiser and The Subdudes.

"Myths have the power to both reflect and effect the psychology of their contributing cultures. Through a developed creative language, mythology allows the human psyche to create the world anew, showcasing the human propensity towards imagination. It is through this creative process that a single species utilizes its imagination to attempt to understand its environment, regardless of cultural or external contexts."

Arts Café Britni Irons "Beauty & Nature"

"My goal is to inspire those who see my work to look more carefully at the world around them, to discover beauty in unusual places. I am enamored by all things, as they are beautiful in their element, but are often overlooked.

Photography is a journey for me, a quest to capture elements of nature and the beauty around me. I have loved Art since the first grade. I enjoy taking pictures and seeing peoples reactions to these pictures."

Collin Blackmore

"I have always loved making things and my favorite material is metal. Since high school, I have designed and created sculptures with steel, aluminum, brass, bronze, and copper, as well as glass, fiberglass, carbon fiber, cement and other natural materials.

I am trained as a jeweler, welder, and machinist, and have worked in engineering and custom fabrication shops. Several years ago, I returned to making things of my own design."

"Abstract Chemistry"

"I am an artist, teacher and nature lover. These strands of my life weave together and provide continuous creative inspiration.

Though primarily a painter, I have found that my interest in exploring various media and working with found objects often leads me to redefine the process and applications

I work with. Paying close attention to qualities such as texture, transparency, color and line allows me to translate my experiences and perceptions of the natural world around me and present my work through realism and abstraction."
