Amy Helm April 2 @ 7PM

Singer-songwriter and multi-instrumentalist Amy Helm's third album, What the Flood Leaves Behind, is her most autobiographical yet, both in content and creation. Out now via Renew Records/BMG, these 10 songs represent a gathering of ideas and experiences, friends and collaborators. Yet, the album also marks a landing — a pause for the traveling musician and mother of two young boys who was seeking clarity in her calling and career.

After making multiple albums and performing in far-flung places, Helm returned home to Woodstock's Levon Helm Studios — casually known as The Barn — just before the pandemic to record What the Flood Leaves Behind and reclaim a sense of self.

Matt Nakoa

April 16@ 7PM

Matt Nakoa is an award-winning songwriter, singer, and multi-instrumentalist. A modern troubadour, he makes his home on the highways and concert stages of America, and appears regularly with folk music icon Tom Rush. The Boston Globe says of Nakoa, "Between his piano chops and heartfelt originals on guitar, he drops jaws."

Born on a small goat farm in New York State, Nakoa trained to be a concert pianist before accepting a scholarship to attend Berklee College of Music as a vocalist. He developed his dramatic songwriting style with his college alt-rock band, The Fens, and after the band dissolved, he landed in NYC. It was in Manhattan's all-night piano bars that Nakoa developed an uncanny ability to command the attention of any audience. His first solo albums, released in 2012 and 2014, garnered multiple songwriting awards, including a win at Kerrville Folk Festival's New Folk Competition.

2022 Gallery Exhibit

March 19 - October 22

50th Anniversary Retrospective

Earlville Opera House (EOH) is celebrating 50 years as an incorporated nonprofit arts center in 2022 and we are celebrating the many talents of previous exhibitors!

EOH is home to three gallery spaces, the East Gallery, West Gallery and the Arts Café which annually present between 12-15 solo exhibitions of regional and national contemporary visual artists representing all media, and we host the coveted yearly Quilt Show. This year, we're hosting one special collective exhibit combining and celebrating the past beautiful creations that have highlighted our walls.

Margaret Brenner

I received my MFA in Studio Art from SUNY Albany in 1989. At the time, I worked in pastels and sculpture. Over the past decade, I've gravitate to photography as my preferred medium. I've also taught drawing at several schools and participated in numerous juried and one-woman shows. Margaret's artwork displayed in this exhibit is for sale!

Artist Statement

I'm strongly drawn to the myriad of colors, shapes and textures found in nature. The three images of “Forest Story,” the piece shown here, were created during the Covid-19 lockdown in early 2020. They were inspired by the enormous comfort and stimulation I found in the forest at this time.

Your beloved Earlville Opera House faced tough new challenges during the pandemic shutdown.
