

Enriching the CNY community through visual and performing arts since 1892!

Hello friends!

We have some very exciting events coming up in August including our very own Board President Bruce Ward on August 3; Kids Summer Art Camp with Margaret Fetzko; East Gallery Yoga on Friday mornings from 10-11am; Hawktail on August 16; Reyna Stagnaro in the Courtyard in connection with our Annual Quilt Show gallery opening on August 24; and Hellcat Maggie on August 30. Don't miss the current round of diverse and vibrant gallery exhibitions either!

Bruce Ward

Courtyard Series

August 3 @ 7PM

Bruce began singing at age five in the church choir, and has done almost every kind of singing ever since, including rock bands, musical theatre, opera and folk music. After his sister gave him his first guitar at age 16 it was never far from his side through the rest of high school and college. Over the years Bruce's musical tastes have covered many different types of folk music and song writers. He now favors finger-style guitarists and songwriters with a keen sense of what it means to be a loving, contributing member of a community, and his original songs reflect that worldview.

Hawktail

August 16 @ 7PM

Haas Kowert Tice asked the question, what if? After forging their own brand of roots music—one grounded in timeless tradition, crafted by top-shelf musicianship, and performed with jubilant comradery—what if this trio of America's finest string players became a quartet?

Brittany Haas (fiddle), Paul Kowert (bass), and Jordan Tice (guitar) own the sweat equity of a decade spent stoking the fires of their passion project. Haas, whose 2004 self-titled release instantly became the touchstone for a generation of old-time fiddlers, has since lent her sound to Crooked Still, Live From Here, Michael Daves - and David Rawlings, where she plays alongside Kowert, well known as Punch Brothers' virtuosic bass player. Tice is a rare guitar player whose music showcases his unique identity and a particular knack for tune-writing. Haas Kowert Tice was a special road they could travel together.

Where communication was intuitive, then innovative. Where musical curiosity was boundless and inspiring for each as writers, players, and friends.

Reyna Stagnaro

Courtyard Series August 24 @ 2-4PM

Reyna Stagnaro is a singer/songwriter worthy of a good listen. Raised in the Midwest now living in the Northeast, her songs have the ring of hill and heartland. Her voice has an infectious purity that feels welcoming and familiar. Her mandolin and tenor guitar add a distinctive sound.

Reyna's lyrics capture the peace of a life lived close to the land - a place we long for and so are quickly taken in. Her music has a graceful lyricism and honest simplicity - her view of the world is open, direct, and refreshing. The songs are a journey and in the end there is a melody and message that will stay with you, a place you will enjoy revisiting again and again. Her 2015 release Painted Hills featuring 14 original tracks with accompaniment by world-class guitarist Loren Barrigar and other stellar backup is available on iTunes, Spotify, CD Baby, and Amazon.

Reyna performs in the acoustic duo Dove Creek in Central New York. Her music has been played on Public Radio programs Common Threads (WAER) and Bluegrass Ramble (WCNY). Don't miss an opportunity to see this extraordinary musician and her music in our lovely Courtyard setting. This is a donation event with proceeds benefitting EOH programs and services.

Hellcat Maggie

August 30 @ 7PM

HellCat Maggie is a high energy Celtic rock ensemble and our goal is to get you dancing and singing to our wide range of Irish/Celtic/rock music. We have seven seasoned musicians playing an array of instruments including fiddle, highland pipes, banjo, tin whistle and mandolin, all supported with a full rock back-line. Our combination of traditional Celtic instrumentation and high energy rock is a sure bet to get your jig on.

East Gallery Judith Giaque - Yahna "Pilgrimage"

"Nature has been my inspiration, my sanctuary and my guide throughout my life as an artist. Though my art has evolved and changed with the different roles I have played and the different work I have done, the underlying theme has been our return to a healthy relationship with "mother nature"; one that honors and holds her sacred."

Ramona Kacyvenski "Life's Montage"

"I make art to enforce the value of creativity as a human activity. Art is a practice as old as humanity itself and in my studies as an art historian I have come to know art as an expression of social, economic, political, spiritual and emotional experiences of being a human."

"West Meets East"

When I was an art student in New York City, I was introduced to Chinese and Japanese art and design and became intrigued and enchanted from the beginning with the dramatic effect ancient masters achieved using simple homemade paper, ink, and brushes. The tools themselves have a rustic, beautiful aesthetic and are a joy to work with.
